

Larp Rising

US3R617345	06-OCT-20_03:18:27	No.6478	What you're looking at here is the birth of a new religion. The Church of Covid will dictate social policy more and more. As children grow up with it, it will appear to have always been there, and if they're allowed to speak with 'old people' who remember the past, they'd be astonished to learn that there was a time when you could go about your business without paying a tax or bowing down to the great god of the Covid. Worst of all, the kids wouldn't know how to live their lives without the Covid rules. Without "guidance", they will be as sheep without a shepherd. Dark times ahead, my friends.
