

Larp Rising

US3R518945	13-JUN-21_08:14:01	No.9332	Holy shit. It's happening! There seems to be more than just talk about the whole UNVAXT thing. If it's for real it could be a return to the old style free festivals before Glastonbury and the rest turned into collection folders for the NPCs. Valideo reports that the organisers may not wait for next year and just put together a small line-up for the summer and put it on somewhere in the middle of the country, Imagine it. A free festival for the uninjected, where the self-stabbed are encouraged to stay away.
US3R834823	13-JUN-21_08:17:23	No.9333	^9332 Saw it last night. This is legit. We were talking about the law of unintended consequences. The vaxx discrimination is actually reminding whole swathes of people what freedom used to be like and they are making their own choices. Question is, what are the authorities prepared to do to stop it?
US3R729458	13-JUN-21_08:17:54	No.9334	^9332 Yep. Unvaxt, eating real food and listening to real music in the real world. The zombies are going to freak out and will actually back the media and the cops when they demonise it and try to shut it down. It's like some biblical massacre of a tribe. It'll all go underground the minute people start to fight for their freedom.
US3R264921	13-JUN-21_08:19:32	No.9335	^9332 Also on the Valideo report, they're planning to burn effigies of Tony Blair and the Turk. It's like an occult ritual in reverse.
