US3R519573	14-OCT-20_09:23:43	No.6521	When you bear in mind that the results of the PCR tests are an 'interpretation' of the science, you realise that these people are inventing numbers to put on a board. Once you get this, you can look at the announcements that they're making through the media with different eyes. They try to give the impression that they are chasing the coronavirus around the country and trying to protect people from it, when the reality is the opposite. They are choosing who to terrorise by inventing cases in the region they wish to experiment on, and then threatening the rest of the country with it. There is no push back at all within the news organisations. Sure, there are people like me who can see with their own eyes that these are military occupation tactics buoyed up by a weird belief that they can balkanise the country, stop travel between zones and somehow dominate behaviour and belief systems at a regional level. But you can't talk about it, discuss it or even mention it outside of the offices. Paranoia has gone much deeper than losing your job, like a health worker who says their hospital is empty. There's a feeling that soon we are going to be signing bits of paper that put us under some sort of official secrets filter. People could be prosecuted.
US3R294717	14-OCT-20_09:27:22	No.6523	There's a group called Wyeberry (?) who are at least contributing to the psychological operation. They're desperate to get people wearing face visors, so you can see the face of the person being basically humiliated. The excuse is that all masks will be needed for hospital staff and 'emergency' workers, though they can't explain why, if the visor is as effective as the mask, why don't hospitals issue them to staff instead. Load of doublespeak about disposability and multiple use hygiene, but we know why. Basically it comes down to compliance training for the masses.
US3R188498	14-OCT-20_09:29:54	No.6524	^ 6523 A similar humiliation to getting down on your knees in church. You are accepting the orders from an overarching authority and displaying submission.
